

All Saints. Church, Lonavala.

All saints' church is situated in Lonavala near railway station, it is a beautiful small church, and the foundation stone of this church was laid on Thursday 17th December 1903 by the lordship The Rt. Rev. Edwin James Palamer Bishop of Bombay. The church is of English gothic architecture style with stone flooring the high alter stands in the middle of the Alter made of teak wood the pulpit has been stand on the stone steps. It has beautiful caved baptistery & alter railing. Rev. Apte from Pune is the parish priest of this church. Adjoining to the church there is primary school also.